

ZACA FIRE, SANTA BARBARA COUNTY

Update as of Thursday, July 26, 2007

- The Zaca Fire in Santa Barbara County has burned 31,000 acres and is 80 percent contained. The fire is burning in steep, rocky and broken terrain in the San Rafael Wilderness, about 15 miles northeast of Buellton in Santa Barbara County.
- All evacuation warnings mandatory and voluntary have been lifted.
- Canyon Road is closed to the east at Baseline Road. Figuerora Mountain Road is closed to the east at Hwy 154
- All shelters, including animal shelters, have been closed.